10 - What specific things has the instructor done especially well in teaching this course?

Bruce Elgort

Response Rate	17/17 (100%)
----------------------	--------------

- Module system, consistent assignments and projects,
- He's done good in all aspects.
- Bruce is available, approachable and incredibly easy to learn from.
- Being fluent and accurate with details has been a strong point.
- The examples of the work provided for this course were excellent.
- By expanding our way of thinking about web design. he has really helped in showing me how to think outside of the box and implement modern ideas
- Bruce does an excellent job at making sure the concepts are understood and used in a way that make sense. So often in classes I see things like "Do this because it needs to be done." Bruce is much more "Do this, and this is why were doing this, and this way specifically."
- Bruce communicates core lessons very well and quickly clears up any confusion a student might have about coursework or concepts. Bruce also makes an effort to acknowledge students over Zoom (calling on them, asking for their feedback/opinions, etc) which I really appreciate.
- He gets the material out in a way that's easier to understand and makes sure to answer all questions and has always been easy to reach outside the classroom.
- Professor Elgort was especially great at making difficult concepts to learn more understandable.
- Teaching material in a clear, concise manner that is quick and easy to understand and retain. Teaching in a way that fosters a calm, welcoming learning environment.
- Well thought out plan for class
- Explained things with excitement
- He has been very patient, helpful, and engaging. He makes class fun to be in.
- Providing help on work when needed.
- He did very well in being supportive and encouraging and giving assistance whenever I needed it. I was down and lost at several points and yet he gave me help and direction whenever I asked. I'm very grateful and lucky to have someone who's so willing to give a hand when I need it
- The instructor has left a lot of room for freedom so that we can explore the course concepts in our own way.

11 - What specific things could the instructor do to improve the teaching in this course?

Bruce Elgort

Response Rate	14/17 (82.35%)
----------------------	----------------

- Nothing , everything is all good.
- My only critique (and it's a small one) is that he will get off on a tangent sometimes.
- This teacher has taught the class very well.
- The instructor could teach flex box and css grid earlier because they are very powerful and helpful!
- I don't have anything in mind. I feel Bruce covers the subject thoroughly and is very informative.
- None. Worked well for me.
- There were a few times when I didn't really understand the lesson-plan for a specific week because of the nature of the concept we were covering. (Specifically, I got lost briefly and was less-engaged during the weeks that revolved around CSS-grid and flex-box) I think extra preparation for weeks like that would benefit future students. (Also not a fan of pre-recorded lectures, just for any class in general. Just saying.)
- None that i can think of at the moment
- Nothing I can think of at the moment.
- None, great teacher
- While I appreciate how available he is to help his students, I am concerned that he maybe makes himself too available - when does he sleep or spend time with his family? ;)
- Nothing.
- I'm at somewhat of a loss, honestly. I dunno if there's much he can do to improve. Perhaps provide more written instruction as alternatives to videos to accomodate those who learn better through reading than through video-watching? But that could be a misguided suggestion, and I think he'd do very well if he were to continue going like this
- While it's likely not possible because of time constraints, it would be nice if the instructor could grade projects faster, but I completely understand that it is a difficult thing to do especially when there are so many projects to grade and review.
